SAMSUNG

Looking good can be hard. Even though its aerodynamic design is incredibly thin and lightweight the Samsung 900X3A is also incredibly tough. It's made from Duralumin – used to make aircrafts, because it's twice as strong as aluminum, so it's perfect for a hectic life on the move. Especially when it looks as good as this, with sensuous flowing curves and beautifully crafted features, like its backlit keyboard. And it also boasts an outstandingly high quality screen. With a market-leading 400nit brightness and 16 million colors, its 100% brighter than conventional displays. So it brings movies and games bursting into life with incredible crispness and true to life color clarity. Plus you get the latest high performance technology, with Genuine Windows® 7 Professional.(64-bit)* including an Intel® Core™ i5 Processor*, solid state drive, TPM (Trusted platform module) and a VGA adapter. So this really is the Business model to watch.
